Punahou School Exercises.

The public exercises at the Punahou Preparatory school occupied the morning hours Friday. The exhibition passed off with great credit to the scholars and honor to the faithful corps of teachers whose work showed to good advantage. Miss Fanning's Kindergarten also joined, delighting the audience with their able exhibit. At the close her school of little ones reassembled in her room and each received a Christmas gift from the teacher. She has done admirable work and the Kindergarten is deserving of Honolulu's liberal support. In the Punahou Preparatory, it is hard to select or make special commendation where all was so good. Recitation in concert was excellent, strangers to the work readily understanding each word and catching the clearly marked accentuation. There has been a great improvement over former years in the use of English and in clear and distinct utterance. One of the greatest faults of the past in many of the schools has been insufficint attention to good speaking and elocution in general. Besides the recitations and vocal exer-cises, the blackboard showed excellent specimens of penmanship of drawing and map work. A unique feature was some work in moulding sand, which, if a mistake is not made, is new at Punahou. Upon one board was presented two models of Oahu, showing with a really remarkable degree of correctness the mountains, bays, capes and other prominent features. Another board showed

America and Africa. At the close of the exercises Miss Aola Whitney on behalf of the school stepped forward and with a few appropriate remarks presented Miss Malone with a remembrance from the scholars in the shape of a pair of lovely gold pins. Miss Malone's term of service has expired by her resignation, and Miss Whitney could hardly control her emotions upon bidding her beloved teacher farewell on behalf of the school. A member of the Board of Trustees followed and in a few words expressed the deep regret of the trustees and of the patrons of the school in losing her services, conveying also their appreciation of the high character of her work and congratulating the Kamehameha schools and the cause of Commemorative Christmas Services. Services intended to be commemorative of the coming Christmas season were held at Central Union church yesterday morning, afternoon and evening and members of the congregation and children attended in full force. Special choral service was added to the evening services the events being as follows: Invocation, Rev. W. C. Merritt. An-them "All ye of Saba" Rheinberger, choir. Scripture reading "The birth of Christ," Rev. W. C. Merritt. Hymn, "When Jordan hushed his water still," congregation. Anthem "There were shepherds," choir. Prayer, Rev. Beck-with. Response "Brightest and best of the sons of the morning," choir. Scrip-ture reading, Psalms, Rev. Beckwith. Anthem "Hark what mean those holy voices," choir. Address, Rev. Beck-with. Anthem, "Praise the Lord," choir. Hymn "Hark, hark, my soul," choir and congregation.

Absent Friends.

In a weekly parochial issue, sent to this office by Rev. Mr. Oggel, formerly pastor of the Bethel Church, is found the following:

"On Tuesday of this week (Nov. 9) it was a great pleasure to have with us the Rev. George Wallace, the popular and beloved rector of the English speaking congregation of St. Andrews' Cathedral, Honolulu, H. I. During our three years' stay on the islands he was among our best and most trusted friends. We had frequent and delightful companionship, and no message could have been more welcome than his from New York,
"Will be with Mrs. Oggel and you on Tuesday. Aloha." On Tuesday he came and told us all about our friends on the islands. It was a happy day and we hope to have another visit from him before long."

Irresistible America.

The State, however powerful, will never again do with ease anything to which the American republic is strongly opposed. There is not a diplomatist in Europe who does not know this, or who does not hold that Napoleon III was only sane in quit-ting Mexico, and that Prince Bismarck showed his wisdom when, rather than quarrel seriously with Washington, he abandoned all prethat the legislative independence of Ireland would be dangerous to Great Britain—so dangerous that we rather wonder Mr. Gladstone, unlike most of his subordinates, did not take pains to avoid showing how deeply his Irish leadership makes him feel the ever-growing strength and irres-istibleness of the Union. The Sugar Market.

(From Our San Francisco Correspondent.)

The local market remains firm but prices have not undergone any alteration. No fluctuations of any moment are expected at present. The Eastern situation shows much unsteadiness and no one seems to know just what is likely to happen. The Spreckels' refinery at Philadelphia was opened December 9th, Claus Spreckels himself dumping the first hogshead into the melting pans. For the present the refinery will melt about 1,000,000 pounds daily, and Spreckels is amply supplied with raw sugar for some time to come. The Spreckels' interests have just had a bout with the Pacific Rural Press, which published a squib to the effect that there was much dissatisfaction among the beet growers at Watsonville about the division of the proceeds of the season's operations. A retraction was promptly made, the growers themselves writing to the journal and posting the statement as without foundation. The sorghum sugar business is not as prosperous as the Kansas and Missouri experimentalists would have the public believe. Many of the principal sorghum producers say that for anything except syrup, sorghum is a failure. An investi-gation has just been made into the affairs of the American Sugar Co., of Ashland, Missouri. It shows that extensive frauds were carried out. The company erected a mill and then asked the townships surrounding the site to vote $150,-000 in bonds. - The company had a secret process, known as the "roasting process," which it would not describe. models of the continents of North Proceedings will be instituted if pos-

from Clarence W. Ashford who is now at Ottawa, saying that British capitalists have been offered several concessions to lay a submarine cable from Vancouver to Honolulu. The dispatch also states that the concessions have been accepted, and that the cable will be in operation in two years. The particulars are not known, but it is supposed that the con-cisco. The funeral of Jefferson Davis occurred on the 11th inst. at New Orleans. Six or seven Governors of Southern States were present and the crush on the streets was tremendous. The body laid in state for two days before the funeral and was viewed by thousands of people. The funeral services were conducted by Bishop Gallagher, of New Orleans, by Bishop Gallagher, of New Orleans, assisted by six Episcopal and Catholic priests. The eulogy was pronounced by the Bishop. He referred in the mildest terms to the enmity stirred up by the war and paid a fine tribute to Davis' worth as a man and friend. The body was conveyed to the cemetery on a military caisson decorated with the stars and tary caisson decorated with the stars and stripes. The parade included the militia of Louisiana and other States and many civic organizations. On the day of the funeral business was suspended throughout the South and memorial services $2,975,000. According to the New York Herald a scheme is on foot to establish an inter-national Catholic banking institution with a capital of $100,000,000. The Pope denies it.

The Mormons have begun the persecution of witnesses who testified them in the recent Endowment House cases. The Court promised protection to these witnesses, but no Court can pro-tect a man against a shot in the dark. If Mormon persecution is carried on to any extent it would not be surprising to se some counter Gentile organization effected, but in an illegal contest the Mormons would have the advantage in both

San Francisco News.

Up to the night of the 7th inst., rain had fallen almost incessantly in every part of California for over a fortnight. The rainfall in San Francisco up to that time was about twenty inches for the season, as compared with seven inches last year, and the rainfall all over the State was very heavy. The Sacramento river burst through the levees above the town of Colusa, converting all the low lands in the vicinity into a great sea of water, and at one time it was feared that the town would be washed away. Great damage was done at other places, and the river was higher than ever before known by several inches. At the time of the departure of the steamer the worst was over as the rain had ceased and the river was falling. The total damage is bard to estimate, but it will not be less than a million dollars. The State Supreme Court has reversed itself in the Jessup will case and has decided that Richard Jessup is not entitled to the estate of his natural father, G. P.

Four engineers left the city on the 13th inst. on the steamer San Jose, their object being to go over the whole line and to make an especial study of the cut between Lake Nicaragua and the Pacific ocean. Mr. Albert Boschke, the chief engineer of the River, Harbor and Canal Dredging and Land Co., intends to go to

New York shortly to offer bids on dredging works on the same section. United States Minister Mizner is at San Jose, Costa Rica, still endeavoring to make the settlement between Nicaragua and Costa Rica permanent. The canal company, however, intends to push its work right along, no matter what the Costa Ricans may do.

Shipping News. The big British steamer China of the Pacific Mail fleet, which is soon to float the Hawaiian flag, beat all trans-Pacific records on her maiden voyage. She crossed from Yokohama in 12 days, 20 hours and 54 minutes, beating the old record by 17 hours and 10 minutes. The Canadian Pacific steamers have never touched the China's record.

The sailing vessels now departing for Hawaii are getting away with non-union crews, much to the discomfiture of the Coast Seamen's Union. There are plenty of sailors in port now, and men giadly go for $25 a month, the union wanting $35. The schooner W. S.
